

FUUSE Ethics in Action Award Nomination Form

Each year our congregation recognizes a member who is living our Ethics out in the world. Past recipients have displayed a wide variety of experiences: working with government, working with other churches, being a witness and an activist as a Unitarian Universalist. These are people who guide us, inspire us, invite us along to participate more in public life. This grateful recognition might be presented to an individual, a dynamic duo, or a group living our UU values out loud in the world. These values include:

- The inherent worth and dignity of every person
- Justice, equity and compassion in human relations
- Acceptance of one another and encouragement of spiritual growth in our congregations
- A free and responsible search for truth and meaning
- The right of conscience and the use of the democratic process within our congregation and in society at large
- The goal of world community with peace, liberty, and justice for all
- Respect for the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part
